should think that State was in a fair way of taking a olace alongside of Illinois, Indiana, &c. as a delinquent State, and along side of Mississippi as a repudiating State The governor says that the State treasury is not in a condition to pay off the interest which has already accrued on the State bonds. The total amount of undisputed in-terest on State bonds, due and unpaid, up to the 1st October last, was $504,507 50. The message goes on to say that the citizens of the State are already oppressed by exation to meet the expenses of the government. The governor is not prepared to recommend an increased taxa-ion for the purpose of meeting the interest on the State bonds, but proposes that prompt and energetic measures should be adopted, with the means and assets of the banks, to discharge the interest upon all such bonds as have been sold in good faith and in strict accordance with the bank charters. In alluding to the banking move, ments of the State, the message states that the amount of notes issued by the State bank and branches, outstanding on the 26th day of October last, after deducting the amount already burned, and the amount on hand to be cancelled and burnt, was $172,355. Towards the redempcancelled and ourni, was $172,355. Towards the redemp-tion of this sum, there are already in the vaults of the principal bank $125,000, in the notes of the real estate bank and branches, to which may be added the amount of notes collected by the receivers of the different branches since their last returns. According to the report of the auditor of public accounts, the whole amount of the issues of the real estate bank and branches, is $804, 604. The amount redeemed and burned, up to the 30th of September last, is $384 739, and there are in the vanits of the principal bank, ready to be burned, $181,620 -This leaves $237 504 of the total issue outstanding, part of which has been received at the different branches since the last of April, of no returns have been

It is with much satisfaction we find that the subscrip ions to the Eris railroad are progressing with great rapidity, and of such a character as to inspire the most perfeet confidence that this important work will be pressed forward without delay. On one subscription book we have seen about two and fifty thousand dollars, while others, under the superintendence of the several direcors, are circulating with stell greater success. As we have heretofore remarked, the value and the prespects of he Eric railroad, when properly understood, could not fail to commend public confidence, and we have now the gratification to perceive that there expectations are to be ully realized. The subscription books will be publicly opened on Tuesday, (to morrow,) and continue until the last of the month, when the two millions will taken, in the event of which, we have no doubt the stock will be as much sought for as it has been heretofore neglected. In looking over the terms of subscription, we learn that

The amount of instalments, until January, 1846, cannot exceed, except by volunt ary payment, twenty-fiveper cent; but such will be the effect of the subscription, that the whole road may be completed with the greatest expedition, with a proper regard to the true principles of judicious economy. The gross amount of capital stock will be $4 100,000, suppos tag the present subscription in the city and country to be $3,000,000, and the aggregate debt, when the road is complete, about $3,000,000, making a total of $7,600,000; the State having agreed to relinquish its ciain for $3,000,000, provided the road be finished in seven years. That the road can be made, from its present state of forwardness, in three years, is not questioned by practical men; and under the past experience the company will have, also, the advantage of the modern improvements which have been introduced. In the fiscal management of the affairs of the company all that will be required, after discharging the interest on the debt, $210,000, and allowing annual divisend on $4,100,000 capital stock, $22,000,000, a sum entirely adequate to liquidate the whole debt in five years; and, or the same time, admit of a sufficient amount to be disbursed in the construction of a double track, through the accommodation of which the road will be rendered much more profitable and successful. There is a point of interest in the construction of this work that renders it peculiarly a matter of solicitude to the business men of our community, and which we need eived this morning from the agents of our government in Mexico, the contents of which have not been made public, although it is presumed they relate to private claims against the Mexican government. I find but little faith reposed in the judgment, discretion, or ability of Gov Shannon. His peculiar position before leaving—his negotiation of outlit in New York at an enormous per centage—and his subsequent robbery in Mexico of a reported large amount of doubloons, cast reasonable doubt over his strict business capacity. But he may assist to maintain the rights of private claimants and national honor, which as an American he is bound to preserve.
